

WATERMILL ROMANTIC

The impressive Watermill-DVD from Germany and the Netherlands

The Watermill-DVD gives an unique overview of the development of watermills.

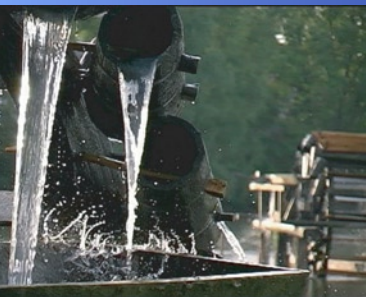

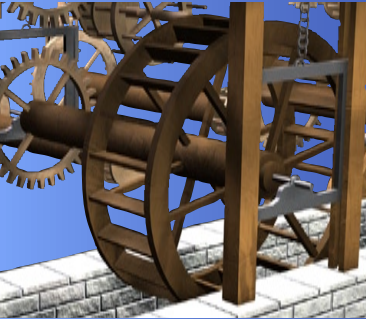

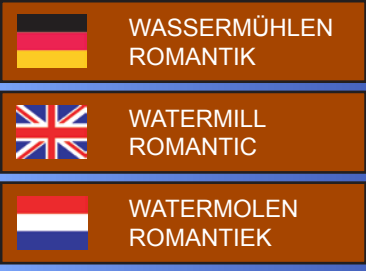

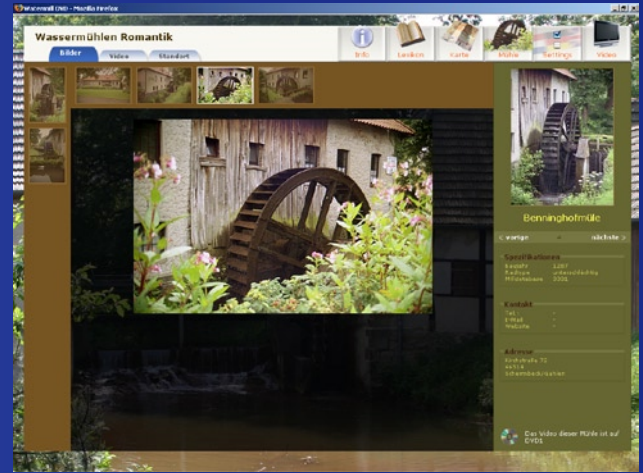

Ansgar Rahmacher and Romke Schievink visited and filmed the most beautiful watermills still in existence during the last 3 years in the Netherlands and Germany. Except the well-known watermills, also forgotten and ruined mills are shown. Over five hours video material are to be found on these 2 DVD's.

On these DVD's you find:

- 70 minutes documentary film over the history of watermills. The development and the value of the mills from the antique to the modern times included water wheel and turbine technology.
- a cinematic overview of nearly 200 watermills in Germany and the Netherlands with spoken comment. You can watch each mill in a menu.
- professional 3-D animations of the watermill technology. Aspirator, turbines, water wheels and further mill components are described in detail.

If you use a computer, you can see all important information of the mills in an interactive map, as for example text, pictures and films.

As well as the DVD's is a booklet of 80 pages. There are addresses, contact persons and GPS coordinates of the referenced mills.
